

I think the ARRL proposal to re-structure the amature license requirements is totally in compliance with the times. This would open up amature radio to more membership.